BIG STEVE BATS AND PITCHES TO 11 TO 6 VICTORY

Beattyville Falls
Before Blue Sox
Here Last Week

(By Jerry Franklin)
After taking a game off to celebrate his first wedding anniversary, southpaw ace Steve Hamilton came back on the Bluegrass League scene here Sunday to hurl West Liberty to an 11-6 win over Beattyville.

The tall left-hander was grooming a no-hitter until the seventh when a bloop single by Botner fell in to tear up the bid.

Hamilton struck out nine, and gave up five hits and only one earned run in winning his third B.G.L. contest against no defeats this season.

As if all this wasn't enough, Big Steve also struck the biggest batting blow for the Blue Sox, as he belted a 1-1 pitch out of the park with the bases loaded in the third inning to personally account for 4 Sox runs.

Merle Nickell with a double and a single and Jerry Franklin with two singles, along with Hamilton's four-run count, paced the Sox's 10-hit attack on Beattyville's Carl Dunaway.

In all fairness, it should be pointed out that Beattyville, whose only triumph is against league leading Irvine, was performing without the services of their regular second baseman, Buddy Hampton; catcher, Curt Hall and pitcher, Murrell Stampfer.

The locals evened the situation in the late innings however as Manager Black emptied his bench with 14 West Liberty players seeing action.

The locals had built up an 11-1 lead after five innings when Manager Black began substituting.

In the other Eastern division tussle, Irvine and Lexington battled 11½ innings before rain halted the contest at a 3-3 tie. The fray will be re-played at a later date.

West Liberty's win brought their record to 3 wins and two losses and left them a half game behind Irvine whose slate reads 3 wins and 1 loss. Lexington is third with a 2-2 record and Beattyville is fourth with a mark of 1 win and 4 defeats.

The locals will battle Lexington here Sunday at 2:00 C.S.T.

The Blue Sox have beaten the Parkette nine times but both frays have been tough battles all the way. Irvine will host Beattyville in the Eastern division's other contest.

RALPH WALTER EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

I cannot express in words my deepest and most sincere appreciation for the votes I received in Morgan County. I was unable to see many of you personally and I realize that the majority which I received in Morgan County was due to the many of you who worked in my behalf and in most instances without my knowledge or solicitation. I can sincerely say that I have no ill will in my heart toward any man or woman in Morgan county. I have the warmest feeling toward the people of my home county.

There are some legal matters involved in this election which may require a few weeks to settle. However, regardless of the outcome of these legal actions, WHICH I DID NOT ORIGINATE, there will be no hard feelings on my part and I want to again extend to all of you my appreciation for having made it possible for me to get a majority of the votes in 17 precincts, to tie in one precinct and to lose in only 8 precincts. For this I am grateful regardless of what the final results may be in the race for Commonwealth Attorney.

Sincerely,
RALPH N. WALTER

Lad Falls Into 18-Foot Open Well At Woodsbend But Is Rescued Unhurt

It was the grandmother, Mrs. Minnie May, who thought to look down in an open rock-walled well when four-year-old Lukie West became lost Tuesday of last week at Woodsbend.

Lukie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Vest of Lebanon, Ohio, had been missing several minutes before the family found him at the bottom of the 18-foot well standing in water up to his arm pits. He was rescued unhurt except for a cut on his cheek, believed to have been caused by hitting the side of the rock-walled well in the fall.

When the parents discovered their little son was missing from the yard, they commenced calling for him, and he answered—and continued to answer. But the family couldn't tell where the answers were coming from, and couldn't find him anywhere. The calling of the parents and answering of the lad went on for five minutes or longer before the grandmother suggested looking in the well.

When they looked into the well, 4-year-old Lukie looked up at them—and apparently was so frightened. But seeing his father so far above him, the lad became frightened and began crying. Then his uncle, Johnny B. May, climbed down reaching into the well and got him in his arms and climbed back half way, reaching him up to the boy's father's outstretched hands.

Lukie had only a scratch on one cheek. And his mother soon calmed him.

Lukie and his parents were visiting Mrs. Vest's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas May at Woodsbend when the harrowing experience occurred. They returned to Lebanon, Ohio Sunday.

Absentee Count Wins For Gardner; Walter Files Contest Of Election

SUIT FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT IN WEST LIBERTY

Walter Asks That
All Absentee Votes
Be Declared Void

Ralph N. Walter of West Liberty, who lost his race for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth Attorney to incumbent W. Major Gardner when absentee ballots were counted last week end, filed a contest suit against Gardner in Morgan circuit court Wednesday night.

Before absentee ballots in Morgan and Elliott must count, Walter had a majority of 11 votes in the three-county district. Special Judge Moss Noble of Jackson ruled last week that the boards of election commissioners in Morgan and Elliott must count the absentees—561 in Elliott and 209 in Morgan. He ordered the boards to reconvene and count the absentees.

Counting of the absentees gave Gardner a majority of 101 in Elliott and 47 in Morgan, thus giving Gardner the nomination in the district by 137 votes.

Walter, who is represented by Atty. Rupert Wilhoit of Grayson and his own law partner J. Elaine Nickell, contends in his contest suit that all absentee ballots in Elliott and Morgan should be declared void. As regards the 36 absentee ballots counted in the Commonwealth Attorney race in Carter, Walter contends these too should not be counted on the grounds that the Absentee Voter Law is unconstitutional.

Contending that absentee ballots in Morgan and Elliott are illegal, Walter's petition alleges that approximately two-thirds of the 561 absentee ballots in Elliott were voted by people who were not absent from the county but swore that they anticipated being absent, and that the county clerk was disqualified from swearing the voters by reason of the fact he himself was a candidate.

Contending that all absentee ballots in Morgan should be declared void, Walter alleges that due to certain "irregularities in absentee voting, it is impossible to determine which may be legal and which illegal, and for that reason none of the absentee ballots should be tabulated. He charged that half the absentee ballots were voted in the clerk's office. The suit asks that all absentee ballots in Morgan and Elliott be declared illegal and that those tabulated in Carter be disregarded because the Absentee Voter Law is unconstitutional. He contends the boards of election commissioners were without right and authority to open the absentee boxes and count the absentee votes.

Gardner was represented by Atty. R. C. Littleton of Grayson in his mandamus action last week to require the boards of election commissioner of Morgan and Elliott counties to count the absentee ballots. Judge John A. Keck also joined in the action in Elliott and argued that the court require the commissioners to count the votes.

Commonwealth Attorney W. Major Gardner of West Liberty won Democratic re-nomination in the May 28 primary by a majority of 137 votes in the Morgan-Elliott-Carter district on the basis of final tabulation of absentee ballots in Morgan and Elliott Counties last week end.

His opponent, Ralph N. Walter, also of West Liberty, was ahead 11 votes at the conclusion of the precinct tabulations.

Then the boards of election commissioners in Elliott and Morgan refused to count the absentee ballots, indicating there had been certain irregularities.

Gardner filed suits against the election commission of both counties claiming they had "arbitrarily refused" to tabulate the absentee ballots. There were 867 absentee ballots locked up in the two counties—288 in Morgan and 569 in Elliott.

Special Judge Moss Noble of Jackson last Thursday ordered the Elliott election commission to reconvene and tabulate the Elliott absentee ballots and on Saturday ordered the Morgan election commission to meet and tabulate one box of its absentee ballots and to disregard one box.

The Elliott commission met and canvassed its absentee ballots last Friday. Gardner received a majority of 101 in the tabulation.

The Morgan commission tabulated 209 of its absentees on Saturday. Gardner received a majority of 47.

The 101 in Elliott and the 47 in Morgan gave him a majority of 137 in the district over Walter.

Since there is no Republican candidate for the office, the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

Judge John A. Keck joined in the suit in Elliott by filing an intervening petition against the commissioners in Elliott also demanding that they tabulate the absentee ballots. Keck made one of the arguments to the court citing the constitutional rights to have the absentee ballots counted.

Judge Keck had won re-nomination in both party primaries—the Democratic by 920 votes and the Republican by 1,002. His opponent was Lynn B. Wells of West Liberty.

The Carter county board of election commissioners promptly counted the absentee ballots cast there.

Gardner was represented by Atty. R. C. Littleton of Grayson. Walter had joined the defense and was represented by Atty. Rupert Wilhoit of Grayson and by his own law partner, Atty. J. Elaine Nickell in West Liberty.

Judge Keck pleaded his own case, making a lengthy speech to the court on the duties of election commissioners to count the ballots and the dangers fraught by any governmental body re-nominating in both party primaries—the Democratic by 920 votes and the Republican by 1,002. His opponent was Lynn B. Wells of West Liberty.

Walter's attorney contended "over half the absentee ballots in Elliott had been voted in the clerk's office." Judge Keck and Littleton argued that the clerk had followed the provisions of the absentee voter law in every step as provided in the statutes and that the commissioners might as well refuse to count any precinct as to refuse to count the absentee ballots. They argued the point of law that the suit did not raise the question of the manner of voting but only to require the commissioners to fulfill their duties by canvassing the returns of the election.

One allegation by the defense was that one of the absentee boxes was not properly prepared and inspected before the incoming absentee ballots were placed in it.

The cases were argued by attorneys solely on points of law and by affidavits. No oral testimony was taken.

South Fork Cemetery Setting For Tribute To Revolutionary Soldier

DAR Unveils Marker
At Grave of Ambrose
Jones Near Malone

A large crowd assembled on the hillside near the Old South Fork cemetery at Malone Sunday afternoon and paid tribute to one of Morgan County's Revolutionary War soldiers who was buried there 124 years ago.

During an impressive ceremony, the Morgan County chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution read a history and war record of soldier Ambrose Jones, who fought with George Washington at historic Valley Forge, and then unveiled a marble marker which the chapter had placed at the grave.

Walton Jones, superintendent of Morgan county schools and a great-grandson of the honored soldier, was master of ceremonies. He said, in part: "We are assembled here to pay tribute to one of our forefathers who fought at Valley Forge and in many other battles of the Revolution. Since 1833 he has slept here in the beautiful Caney Valley, here among the habitation of the dead. It is fitting to pay tribute to his memory, and his descendants number hundreds."

John introduced Mrs. Guy W. Leslie of Lexington, a great-granddaughter of Ambrose Jones, who read a history of the Jones family which she had compiled and which was through a great interest to the audience.

Col. Earl Franklin of Richmond, great-grandson of Ambrose Jones, was introduced by Suplt. Jones. Col. Franklin delivered the address, and stated, "I only know of the Revolutionary War through history. However, I know something of war today through experience. In 1775 a captain received $20 per month and a private $6.00. They used muzzle loading flint rock rifles, were often without uniforms, sometimes had no shoes, and the 9,000 men at Valley Forge left their tracks in blood. Today the Air Force, the Navy, atomic submarines and fighting equipment are beyond comprehension of our fathers. It was in this army that Ambrose Jones fought with Washington and gave us our freedom and liberty. It is a great and wonderful thing the DAR is doing to pay tribute to and erect this marble stone to his memory. If he could return and see the change that has taken place since his lifetime he would be amazed. When I left Morgan county 42 years ago there was not an inch of paved roads or streets in the county. We are enjoying a life of these great and good things because of freedom won and maintained. It is up to us to preserve it."

Mrs. John Rose of Ezel, regent of the Morgan county chapter, directed the exercises of the chapter, and Mrs. C. K. Stacy gave the invocation. At the grave stood two youth, Lanny and Stanley Franklin, great-great-grandsons of Ambrose Jones, who were color bearers, and between them stood Danny McLain, bugler, who gave the salute and played taps at the close of the program.

The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. James Redwine of Sandy Hook, vice regent, and Mrs. Mary Ellen Henson of Elliott county sang the National Anthem, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Ova Amyx of Grassy Creek.

The unveiling of the stone was by Mrs. David Seifer of Mt. Sterling, great-great-granddaughter of Ambrose Jones. The flag was placed by Mrs. James Perry and Mrs. Herbert Wells, and a wreath was then placed on the grave by Misses Diana and Barbara Seifer, great-great-granddaughters.

Mrs. George Stewart of Grassy Creek introduced state officers of the DAR and other guests.

Mrs. F. Claggett Hoke, state regent, said in part: "Today, here on the land he (Ambrose Jones) fought for we are seeking to express the pride and appreciation of his service. We have never been able to pay full tribute to him."

DAR DEDICATION

these heroic men of the Revolution, because there are so many whose names have never been recalled.

"The world forgets all too soon, and that is but natural, for life demands its toll of time. But as individuals, as groups organized for the greater good, we can remember. For the sake of those who made the sacrifice and for the spiritual well-being of those who accept it, we must see that it continues lest we forget."

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bach of Lexington, Ralph Edwards of Richmond and Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Murphy of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carter of Frankfort, and Dr. Lenore Shouse of Williamsburg.

Ambrose Jones was born August 10, 1756, and volunteered for three years in the Revolutionary Army in August County, Va. in 1777. He was married to Martha Craig in Greenbrier County, Va. Dec. 10, 1785. He died June 12, 1833, at the age of 77. He was buried in South Fork cemetery at Malone, Morgan County, Ky.

The marble gravestone was unveiled in today's setting of paved highways, while a large transport plane droned overhead, flying above the beautiful homes and farms of the Caney Valley, in decided contrast to the wilderness of the valley at the time the great soldier was buried 124 years ago.

It was a solemn occasion as the large gathering of descendants and friends heard the bugler pay taps at the close of the program with the notes of the bugle echoing through the hills and down the valley.

FLORESS

(By Nora Esterling)

June 4—Ten years had passed since I had traveled the trail that leads to the world war veteran's grave (War I)—James M. Easterling (Uncle Will) as his family and friends knew him—whose grave is nestled alone, among the trees. Sunday morning I followed this trail again and entered the gate which led me to a great white tombstone around this stone were decorations like waiving in a living room with hedge, evergreen and flowers. I traveled this trail to Contrary Fork of Lacy Creek to this veteran's grave and wonder at the mysteries of God. Everything around had changed except this small cemetery and a maple tree where I used to sit and sing while I waited for the cows to come home.

Church services were held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Johnson and at the Johnson cemetery, May 30, by the ministers, son of Elder Alfred Johnson (deceased). Your writer attended both services.

Services were held at the Dawson, Pelfrey, Lacy Creek and Williams cemeteries by Rev. Walter Easterling and Rev. Arlie Nickell May 30th.

The Lacy Creek cemetery looked like a large flower garden after May 30 decoration. Very few graves were without a bunch of flowers. Monday morning Mary Lou, 7 years; Billy, 5 years; and Deborah Conley, 4 years of age accompanied yours truly to the Lacy Creek cemetery after placing markers and flowers for Juanita Sue, Ulysses Grant and Danny Elam's graves the Conley children sang "Jesus Loves Me" and "Jesus Loves the Little Children of This World." They sang well, from teaching at Lacy Creek Sunday school and Lacy Creek public grade school.

Naomi Conley is visiting a few days with her son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Jack) Conley of Matthew.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Easterling and Dora were Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Flem Kennard of Trace Fork of Rockhouse.

Walter Easterling helped set tobacco, franklin, and Logville, Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Ina Easterling, Gay and Donald, West Liberty, visited the grave of their husband and father (War I) veteran James W. Easterling at Contrary fork of Lacy Creek May 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harper, Erma, Patty, Karen Sue and Deborah Lynn were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Conley. Other recent guests of the Conleys were Mrs. Leonard Elam, West Liberty, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hoskins and baby of Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Offie Dale Gambill and baby and Mrs. Thurman Ferguson of near West Liberty.

If we should get interested in "locust barbecue," here in Honey Moon Hollow we could camp out for weeks and weeks. The little music makers have almost drowned the song of the birds and the screaming frogs are heard no more for the locust cry of poor Pharaoh.

MORGAN NATIVE DIES OF WOUNDS

Clifford Newton Nickell, former resident of Morgan county, fatally wounded himself in an accident Friday at his home in London, Ohio. Alone at the time, he apparently accidentally discharged a 22 caliber rifle while going through a gate, killing himself instantly.

Mr. Nickell was born and raised at Ezel, Ky., son of John Smith Nickell and Catharine Sample Nickell. He married Ida Walsh, who preceded him in death in 1946. To this union was born one child, Mary Catharine.

He joined the Christian church at Ezel about 50 years ago and was baptized by Rev. Harlan Murphy. He was a member of Highland Lodge No. 311 at West Liberty.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Chas. F. Cecil of London, Ohio; two granddaughters; a sister, Mrs. Leslie K. Latham of St. Petersburg, Fla., and a brother, Clay Wade of Tollsboro.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. at Lukins Funeral Home, and burial was in Kirkwood cemetery, London, Ohio.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Present day hospital care is expensive, but if the hospital could bill us for their services like any other business, we would no doubt see and believe that their charges are very fair considering their services. Seventy cents of every dollar charged by hospitals is paid out in labor costs. The average hospital has approximately two employees for every bed.

A hospital resembles an iceberg in this respect. Just as four-fifths of the iceberg is below the surface of the water, so much of the hospital labor force is never seen by the patient.

The average patient sees only a few nurses and the maid who cleans his room or brings his food. He doesn't see the doctors' or nurses' training program, the reserves of drugs and blood, even foods and linens. He forgets about the specialized equipment which may be used very infrequently but might save a life at those infrequent times the staff and generators available so that surgery will not be interrupted or oxygen tents cease operating in case of a power failure.

This lengthy list is really brief. It doesn't even mention the specialist diet kitchens for the diabetics, the obese, those suffering from malnutrition, allergies, those in need of low-fat diets, low salt diets, low this and high that. It doesn't include the laundry, power house, pharmacy, etc. and etc.

The operation of today's hospital is a complex business. They not only take care of the patient's illness—they feed and clothe him in bed, they launder endless linens and maintain expensive equipment for the diagnostic use of all physicians, equipment too expensive for any one physician to afford. It is a costly operation, but nothing is too costly when a life is at stake.

Look like the hospitals are not bandits after all but instead are honest folks who are trying hard to serve us well when we need them most.

OBITUARY

PEYTON

Bertie Mae Peyton, daughter of Martha Chaney and Frank F. Cecil, both deceased, was born August 27, 1904, and departed this life May 22, 1957, at the age of 52 years, 8 months and 25 days. On December 5, 1928, she was united in marriage to Forrest Ulmont Peyton. To them were born two children: Donald at home and Irene, deceased.

She also leaves to mourn her loss two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Lettie Bishop, Index, Ky., Mrs. Ida Litteral, Fairborn, O., Russell Cecil, Dayton, O., and Ernest Cecil of Miamisburg, O.

She was converted many years ago and lived a Christian life. Yes, she's gone and oh, we miss her.

But our dear Lord knew the best. She is safe from harm, all pain and suffering gone. She is safe from harm.

Our tears are mingled with the ones who mourn. Their grief seems hard to bear. True, they are left with bowed-down sorrow.

But I know of one who cares. So, dear ones, lift your heart in prayer to Jesus. In this your darkest hour He will know just how to rest you. Praise His name, He has the power.

Jesus had a place up yonder. That no other one could take. But our dear old saintly sister. When her work on earth is done. Here we have our night of sorrow. When we see our loved ones die. We forget that on the morrow. We shall meet them in the sky. And one day we'll meet this dear one.

Never more to say good-bye. Funeral was held at Grassy Lick church by Elders M. B. Whit, John and Russell Brown. Potter Funeral Home was in charge.

ELAM

Cynthia Ferguson Elam, daughter of John L. and Sarah Claypool Ferguson, was born Nov. 19, 1870, departed this life May 20, 1957, at 163 Whitmore Avenue, Dayton, Ohio. She was 86 years, 6 months and one day old. She was united in marriage August 10, 1892, to Curt Elam, who preceded her in death February 18, 1950.

To this union were born four boys deceased and three girls: Mrs. Carma Elam, 163 Whitmore Avenue, Dayton, O.; Mrs. Ina Williams, 1104 Grand Avenue, Middletown, O.; and Mrs. Reva Couch, Alcock, Ky.

Also she is survived by one brother, Harlan Ferguson, West Liberty, Ky.; 17 grandchildren, 30 great grandchildren and many other relatives and a host of friends.

She loved and was loved by all her family and friends. While she never affiliated with any church, she loved the Lord and one of her last statements was, "Thy will be done."

Her body was brought from Dayton to the residence of Harlan Ferguson at Greer.

The funeral, conducted by Elder R. F. Brown of Index, prayer was by Elder Asbel Couch of Alcock after which the body was laid to rest beside her husband in the Ferguson family cemetery at the old home place.

ASHLAND DEAN VISITS IN WEST LIBERTY
Clyde Lewis, Dean of Ashland Junior College and former principal of West Liberty and Cannel City is visiting in West Liberty this week. Mr. Lewis said that he will meet with the University board next Tuesday to formulate plans for the change of the Ashland College to The Ashland Center of the University. If the change takes effect students who attend the Ashland Center will have the same courses and receive credit by the University just the same as if they attended in Lexington.

There are at present thirteen full time teachers and eight part time. There will be at least four other teachers added. Courses are given in education, liberal arts, pre-engineering and business administration.

Mr. Lewis was with the Ashland city school from 1935 to 1953, since then he has been dean of the college.

Mr. Lewis said that the change would give the college an opportunity to render greater and better service to education in Eastern Kentucky and would not adversely affect any other institution.
